Fundraising

At the SSCF Charitable Center it is our duty to provide users with information on all sorts of ways for them to create a fund. If you don't want to create a fund, don't worry, we also allow users information on how to donate to an already existing fundraiser. Below are the basics on how to create a fund!

How your fund is created to give as an Individual or Family

Your personal Fund is created through a legal Deed of Gift and an initial donation. Legacy Giving is open to all wealth levels, starting with small amounts or life insurance plans. The service manages all administrative tasks, including donation receipts, valuations, personalized messages, and custom donation websites.

How your fund is created to give as an Organization or Corporation

Funds are created through organizations and corporations by making corporate donations to support charitable causes, which not only benefit the community but also enhance employee morale, workplace culture, and brand awareness. These donations can address various causes like education, health, or youth development, showcasing the company's commitment to social responsibility and creating a positive public impact.

Granting

If you are looking for a place to learn about how to get grants, you're in the right place. The Charitable Center gives you a step by step process of how grants are decided and how to get them.

Step 1: Identify the Grant Opportunity

- Determine if you are applying for a grant through the Vital Community Fund, a Donor Advised Fund, or a special one-time granting opportunity.

Step 2: Prepare Your Application

- For the Vital Community Fund:
 - Submit an application to be assessed by the Vital Community Fund Committee.
- For special one-time grants:
 - Submit an application to be reviewed by a committee that may include community representatives.
- For Donor Advised Funds:
 - Work with donors who play a consultative role in recommending grants.

Step 3: Align with Community Needs

- Ensure your program or project addresses an identifiable community need and aligns with the Foundation's focus areas (e.g., education, health, youth development).

Step 4: Leverage Foundation Expertise

About Us

Our Story

The Charitable Center is a charity hub of SSCF's to address challenges of not having resources by providing a centralized, accessible, and locally relevant online platform that aggregates credible resources, learning materials, and collaboration opportunities. Managed by the South Saskatchewan Community Foundation, this hub will be a trusted source for Saskatchewan charities, giving them the knowledge and tools they need to work efficiently and stay sustainable.

This initiative presents an opportunity to:

- Make it easier to find resources, saving time spent searching for information.
- Assist with funding by helping charities find grants and proposal-writing assistance.
- Foster collaboration between nonprofits, strengthening sector-wide impact.

By ensuring that the right resources are easy to find and readily accessible, this project will empower charities to work more efficiently, strengthen their impact, and foster collaboration within the non-profit sector.
